What led James to utter this statement? What did he teach against prejudice and partiality? Examine what Christians in Uganda can learn from this teaching (1991, 2005)

(a) James discouraged the treating of people differently according to their appearance because:

1. There was absence of love amongst Christians.
2. Christians were discriminating fellow brethren.
3. They discriminated the poor basing on external appearances.
4. Church leaders were showing respect to the rich and not the poor.
5. Christian judges were denying justice to the poor.
6. The church leaders were recognizing and acknowledging the offertories of the rich but not the poor.
7. Rich Christians were dragging poor ones into courts of law.
8. The rich were exploiting the poor because they despised them.
9. He uttered the statement because he desired equality in church.
10. He wanted to defend the poor, orphans, widows etc
11. Because the rich who came late for church service were exalted and given seats of poor who came early.
12. Because the poor were ordered to sit on the floor

(b) James teaching against prejudice and partiality

1. He called upon believers to treat each other equally.
2. He condemned discrimination of poorly dressed Christians
3. He asked them to respect poor people who arrived early for church service.
4. He reminded them about Jesus’ example of treating people equally.
5. He reminded them that Jesus needed a united church (2:4).
6. To James, judgments based on external criteria are a sin.
7. He told them that God chose the poor to be rich in faith (2:5).
8. The rich who disrespect the poor will not enter the heavenly kingdom (2:5).
9. He condemned the rich for oppressing the poor.
10. He condemned the rich for dragging poor people into courts of law.
11. He condemned the nonpayment of poor peoples’ wages.
12. It is a sin to base judgments on external appearances. The rich will be judged.
13. So they should behave as people who will be judged.
14. As believers in the Lord, Christians had to follow Jesus’ example.

Lessons which Christians can learn from this teaching:

1. Christian learn to treat each other equally.
2. Christians learn to love one another. i.e Christians should be helpful to fellow Christians.
3. Christians should pay their workers.
4. Christians should be fair judges.
5. Christians should defend the rights of the weak.
6. Christians should work for harmony and unity in the church.
7. Christians should lead exemplary lives.
8. They should be repentant.
